ROCK ISLAND,.....ILLINOIS A Spider's Fatal Bite.

From the Providence Journal. A week ago last Thursday morning, Martha Cæsar, a colored woman forty years of age, and wife of James Cæsar, proprietor of a restaurant at 16 Wickenden street, was awakened from sleep by a stinging sensation in her under lip, and found that she had been bitten by some

$66ree. H. HALLETT & CO., Portland, Me. insect. As the rude cabin in which they live, on Babcock street, is infested by numerous spiders, she supposed that one of them had crawled upon the bed when she was asleep. During the day her lip pained her severely, and at night it was badly swollen, and had turned to a purple color. She applied poultices and such simple remedies, but the swelling increased during Friday and Saturday, and the pain extended to her head and himbs. On Sunday Dr. Matthews was called and found that the poison had made its way into her system so rapidly that there were but Arement peculiarly adapts it to the disorders of children. slight hopes of her recovering from its children, malignant effects, However, he pre scribed soothing medicines and applied $5 2 $20 per day at home.
